

Ed Zawatski is named the Hancock County Teacher of the Year 2010

Ed is an electronics teacher at the Career Center with thirty-one years of teaching experience, twenty-nine being in Hancock County Schools.

Mr. Z, as he is fondly referred to, states that it is an indescribable feeling to see students he taught several years before now enjoying a productive, successful life.

Ed was recently honored at the Career Center and will also be honored at an upcoming HCS Board of Education meeting. We wish him luck in state competition!
